

REMEMBERING URBAN RENEWAL

This exhibit focuses on Helena's 1970s era Urban Renewal/Model Cities program and how it profoundly altered the physical, social, political and economic makeup of the community. Extensive images of Helena's historic core illustrate the physical changes to downtown and help us understand why Helena looks the way it does today. A special feature highlights the iconic Marlow Theatre. Admission is free.

Lewis & Clark County History Center, 101 N. Last Chance Gulch

Hours: Monday-Thursday, noon-5 p.m.; Saturdays 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

Lewis & Clark County
Historical Society

Lewis & Clark County
Heritage Tourism Council